Globalization is not just about the rise of the Asian Hemisphere. The four Atlantic continents are connecting in many surprising ways via energy, goods, services, people and ideas. Join us for the culmination of a three-year study by research institutes on the four Atlantic continents mapping trends, perspectives and interregional dynamics between Europe, Africa, and the Americas: The Atlantic Future. Our institutes will present the results of our research, charting new connections and presenting new Atlantic connections. We will unveil a new web-based "Atlas of the Atlantic" and feature speakers from all four Atlantic continents on the rise of the "Atlantic Hemisphere."

We are breaking new ground -- join us!
